SEVEN 'ROSE MAIDS' TO SELL BILLS AT

Stage Beauties Pledged to Give Back Change and attempt No Hold-Ur.

That there is somethin new under the sun was established by the announcement to-day that the seven programmes at the navsboy's benefit Sunday night positivet will return the machine was being manoeuvred by proper change and mate no attempt to little coterie whose main object was to wheedle more than , stipulated sum see that they were protected. from mere man. Ten to an innovation, unheard of in benefi performances. The pretty programme cellers are all members of the 'Millionairess Club" of "The Rose Mad." and they will stand in the form of the theatre, attired in the Passan creations that have won for then the manifest envy of every woman h town.

The programm, for the benefit of the newsies has beer completed. The head liner of the bill of deurse will be Mme. liner of the bill'of deurse will be Mme.
Nordica, the grind opera diva. Albert Spalding, the American violinist, accompanied by Andre Benoist, will appear. A score of the best known performers in light opera and vaudeville will participate Among them are Laddie Cliff, "Robe" Dickinson and Irving Berlin, who wrote, "Everybody's Doing
It" and other leading ragtime melodies.
A feature of the programme will be the appearance of six pretty little girls ranging in age frem eight to ten years, who comprise the "kiddies" number," one of the big lits from "The Rose Maid." They will be supported by Edith Decker and R. E. Graham, to-Sether with a chorus of eighteen stown-ups from the same play.

Tickets for the newsboys' benefit have been on sale in the Metropolitan and in the various hotel ticket agencies for two days, and the advance sale has been unusually heavy. Most of the boxes had been reserved, at a premium, before the sale opened. The management of the Opera House believes that all the tickets will be sold before the doors open Sunday night.

Messrs W & J Sloane have adopted the Edison Service for their new Fifth Avenue Building

The old building, at Broadway and 19th Street, had a private plant

It is therefore the more gratifying that this new structure. devoted to all that is best in floor coverings and furniture, should obtain its power and exquisite lighting effects from the Edison system

Slightly more than 97% of all the large buildings erected on Manhattan Island during 1911 also adopted the Edison service for light and power
